PARSON BROWNLOW AND HIS COFFIN .- Among the - 1 00 notables present at the late mass meeting in Lynchburg, Va., called to express the opinion of the people of that section in relation to the Harper's Ferry raid, was the well-known Parson Brownlow. His remarks on the oc-- 1 00 casion were characteristic. A reporter, in noticing the speech, says it was "intensely Southern," and represents the Parson as saying, "he would rather be with the . . 2 00 | South in Pandemonium than with the abolitionists in heaven." The Parson also remarked that he intended to give his family instructions not to bury him in a Yankee coffin; but in case of an emergency, they should be forced to do so, that they must leave both ends open, 50 so that when the devil or abolitionists came in at one

To CURE SORE I HROAT .- Take the whites of two eggs - 1 00 and beat them with two spoonsful of white sugar; grate 1 00 in a little natmeg, and then add a pint of lukewarm water. Stir well and drink often. Repeat the prescription it necessary, and it will cure the most obstinate case of hoarseness in a short time. So says an exchange. The worst form of ingratitude is to refuse to accept a favor from the hands of a person to whom you have had
